Cogno: Deep Worlds will stimulate players from 7 to adult with thought provoking questions about science and outer space. Kids can get so into it that they'll abandon their computer to play Cogno and learn about the universe by having fun. You win by outsmarting your opponents in a race across an ocean on another planet and answering such questions as "Searching near the bottom of a very deep alien ocean, what form of life would we most expect to find: plants, animals, plants and animals, or robotic fish?" $29.95.
